Colonel Lawrence K. White, USA(Ret)
Executive Director-Comptroller
Central Intelligence Agency

Dear Colonel White:

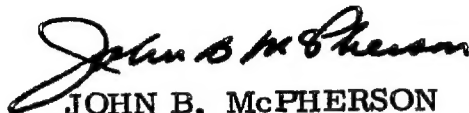

As you know, each of the past several years, during our course on "The Conduct of National Security Affairs," the Central Intelligence Agency has presented a briefing to our class on its functions, organization and operation. We would greatly appreciate it if you would arrange again this year to give such a briefing at The National War College at 9:00 a.m., Monday, 18 October.

The briefings and panel discussions provided to previous classes by you and your team have been consistently excellent, and we would not suggest any change in content or format unless you so desire. As you did last year, we would appreciate your including discussion of the other intelligence agencies and their relationship with the CIA. We have invited Mr. Helms to speak here several days prior to your presentation.

In the event you desire additional information or assistance, please do not hesitate to call on any of us here at the College. Mr. Thomas M. Judd, telephone 693-8491, the director of the course which includes this briefing, is our faculty member most familiar with its scope and purpose.

We hope we shall have the opportunity of welcoming you and your colleagues back to The National War College on 18 October.

Sincerely,

JOHN B. McPHERSON
Lieutenant General, USAF
Commandant
